10 A Choral Accomplishment (video still), 2024, 00:09:28, digital video, 6K

A magic-realist film where home-cheesemaking and choral singing become collective practices of resistance to neoliberal isolation and capitalist exploitation. Through milk, cheese and its bacteria—agents of multiplicity and contamination against purity—the work proposes the communalisation of everyday production labour. It suggests that the way we deal with micro-organism reflects visions on how we ought to live with one another.

27 They Are Everywhere and They Are Armed, Sometimes Heavily, 2020, 11 x 17 cm, 144 pp, riso-printed artist book

Critical dissertation on the pervasiveness of law enforcement and our reliance on punishment as a solution to social failings. It highlights the link between police power, state violence, and racial capitalism, starting from police roots in slavery and colonialism.

28 A Horse Is a Horse of Course, of Course (video still), 2020, 00:05:07, two-channel digital video, 4K

A fictional re-enactment of police horses' training and an acting performance on police language. The film interrogates distorted mainstream definitions of policing, challenging the self-legitimisation of police through both words and imagery.
